Emily Dengler, the current Student Body Vice President at the University of South Carolina, is a junior from Collegeville, Pennsylvania majoring in public health.

During her time at Carolina, Emily has been involved in a variety of organizations. She joined Alpha Chi Omega her freshman year, and served as the Chapter President, leading over 350+ women in leadership development, sisterhood and academic growth. Emily has also been an active member in The Carolina Clemson Blood Drive Committee, Delta Delta Sigma Pre Dental Fraternity, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

Since her freshman year, Emily has been extensively involved in Student Government. She first served as the Assistant Director of the Carolina Closet to the 2019- 20 Student Body Vice President Sophie Davish and then as the Director of the Carolina Closet to the 2020-21 Student Body Vice President Hannah White.

During her term as Student Body Vice President, Emily hopes to make Carolina feel like home to every student through creating inclusive programming and amplifying the voices of all students.
